Good for Rheumatism.

Last fall I was taken with a very severe attack of muscular rheumatism which caused me great pain and annoyance. After trying several prescriptions and rheumatic cures, I decided to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I had seen advertised in the South. After two applications of this remedy I was much better, and after using one bottle was completely cured.—Sallie Harris, Salem, N. J. For sale by all druggists.

HELP YOUR TOWN.

A writer in an exchange has a lengthy screed on the subject, "Help your Town." In part he says: "Another way to help your town is to do all you can to beautify it. Beautify the streets. Be friendly to everybody and courteous to strangers. Your civility will help make good impressions and will be carried and cherished. Never forget you are a part of the town and your deportment helps to make up the stranger's estimate of the place. Sell all you can and buy all you can at home. Every dollar that is sent or carried away from the town makes it that much poorer."

Three Hard Words.

There are three short and simple words, the hardest to pronounce in any language (and I suspect they were no easier before the confusion of tongues), but which no man or nation that cannot utter can claim to have arrived at manhood. These words are, "I was wrong."—Lowell.

His Limit.

Wife—How did you get along while I was away?
Husband—I kept house for about ten days, and then I went boarding.
Wife—Boarding? Why didn't you go on keeping house?
Husband—Couldn't. All the dishes were dirty.

PORT ORANGE NEWS.

PORT ORANGE, April 10.—The largest card party of this season was last Tuesday evening in Ridgewood Hall and one of the pleasantest. Mrs. Stuart-Walton, of Ypsilanti, Mich., was our hostess.

Mrs. G. F. Smith and daughter, Carrie, drove down from Daytona with a party of friends last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Roelker of New York arrived last week and are visiting Mrs. R.'s brother G. W. Lefman, our esteemed postmaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorrance and their charming daughter, Miss Frances, left for their home in Wilkesbarre, Pa., greatly to the regret of the host of friends they made during their stay.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Stockman also started for their home in Charlevoix, Mich.

Messrs. Wilmarth, Temple, Seip and Hurd left in Eliza McDaniel's sail boat the Dolphin for a week's fishing in the Indian river north.

Doctor H. L. Du Bois went over to DeLand Monday in response to an urgent call from there. G. W. Johnson also went over Monday to attend court.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Carter were in our village Sunday afternoon, and J. W. Wilkinson was a visitor on Monday.

Mrs. Jones, of Ponce Park, spent several days with her daughter, Mrs. C. McDaniel.

Mrs. J. H. Du Bois, while walking on the beach opposite here, found a beautiful solan goose. It was a very large bird, measuring 6 feet between the tips of its wings. It is being stuffed and mounted by our taxidermist, Mr. Drummond.

Mr. Havens has just finished a well for Capt. Fozzard, making the third that he has driven in our village, getting a fine flow of water each time.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature on each box. 25c.

WET OR DRY?

EDITOR GAZETTE-NEWS:—We learn that a petition is being circulated again for a wet and dry election for the county. We would think with the experience of the past, when thousands of dollars were spent for the same purpose, that the liquor advocates would hesitate before spending their money, as the public sentiment of our county has been so strongly expressed against the saloons. Some advocate the saloon to bring prosperity. Our city without one has never been more prosperous than at the present time; the money of our capitalists as well as labor is now spent with our merchants, and in building homes for themselves and intending residents; but with a saloon they lose all that, as much of it would go into the till of the saloon and be spent by him in luxurious living. Our city has never supported a saloon with its bad accompaniments, while Titusville starting with a saloon, and with more natural advantages for shipments, being at the head of navigation on Indian river, at one time the terminus of two railroads, has been kept back by the saloon element predominating, to say nothing of general disorder and murders. A saloon in our city would bring a blight on its fair name from which it might never recover. Most of our citizens are a quiet, progressive and law-abiding people. E. N. W.

The Best Prescription for Malaria

Chill and Fever is a bottle of Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. It is simply Iron and Quinine in a tasteless form. No Cure, No Pay. Price 50 cents.

HOW TO ESCAPE.

EDITOR GAZETTE-NEWS:—We read the article on the negligence and carelessness of certain railroads in regard to freight shipped to this point, and offer the following as a sovereign remedy, having had experience. From almost any point in the West or Midwest to New York freight of all kinds is expedited. Have it sent to New York, then by Clyde Line and you will get your goods in reasonable time, and in most cases the rates will not be any more. ONE OF THEM.

COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD.

The County school board met Monday in regular monthly meeting, with members present. Superintendent Bert Fish reported that he had discontinued the school at Spruce Creek because the average attendance last month had fallen below the minimum of eight. Commissioner Chandler reported the sale of the old Highland Park building to B. B. Diben. Regular petitions having been received from the citizens of Winona and Glencoe districts, asking for establishment of subdistricts, the superintendent was ordered to publish the same according to law. Special elections for trustees and to fix the rate of tax were ordered to be held on May 31 for the districts of New Smyrna, Oak Hill, Lake Helen, Hawks Park, Holly Hill, DeLeon Springs, Seabreeze and Glenwood. Dr. L. B. Rouchelle, of New Smyrna, was appointed an agent for the sale of school books for the county schools, and the publication company was requested to supply him with books. Commissioner Knapp reported that pursuant to the order of the board he had visited Glencoe and investigated the matter of the removal of the location of the school building and the erection of a new building, and recommended that no action be taken at present. The report and recommendation were adopted. A petition was received from a number of citizens at Kingston asking the establishment of a school at that place. As there are already schools at intervals of about three miles along that neighborhood, the petition was filed without action. A large number of warrants were drawn, after which the board adjourned.

Useful Men.
A well known Philadelphia society woman said the other day:

"I have come to separate the men of my acquaintance into three classes. There are the dancing men, the dinner men and the corner men, and each has his own place on my list. For instance, I would never think of depending upon dancing men for a dinner. The dinner man is generally callow, and he doesn't know much else besides dancing. On the other hand, the corner man seldom dances, but he is a good talker. He is superficially informed upon the lighter topics of the day—the opera, drama, the latest novels and can more than hold up his end. He doesn't allow conversation to lag, and consequently he is an important factor at a dinner. Men will accept dinner invitations quicker than invitations of other kinds, but don't think from this that they are all dinner men. Far from it."

"The corner man? Oh, he is the one who has the knack of making himself generally useful and is quite in a class by himself. He looks after the comfort of the chaplains, runs handy little errands and can even be depended upon at afternoon teas. The other men don't think much of him, but he has his own value from the feminine point of view."—Philadelphia Record.

Emperor Honors a Dragon Fly.
The oldest extant poem about a dragon fly is said to have been composed 1,440 years ago by the Emperor Yuriku of Japan. One day, while this emperor was hunting, saw the ancient records, a gaily came and bit his arm. Thereupon a dragon fly pounced upon the gaily and devoured it. Then the emperor commanded his ministers to make an ode in praise of the dragon fly. But as they hesitated how to begin he himself composed a poem in praise of the insect, ending with the words:

Even a creeping insect
Waits upon the great Lord:
Thy form it will bear.
O Yamato, land of the dragon fly!

And in honor of the dragon fly the place of the incident was called Akit-suno, or the moor of the dragon fly.—"A Japanese Miscellany."

When an old work horse is given a holiday, he spends it chiefly in looking lonesome.—Atchison Globe.

Consoling the Old Lady.
Old Aunt (despondently)—Well, I shall not be a nuisance to you much longer.
Nephew (reassuringly)—Don't talk like that, aunt. You know you will!—Punch.

How He Spoiled It.
He—I thought you looked charming last night.
She—Oh, now, did you really?
He—Yes. Why, I could hardly believe it was you.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

The Height of Politeness.
Cleveland—Since you have been calling on Miss Plunkett how have her father and mother treated you?
Dushaway—Splendidly. I haven't even met them.—Judge.

What the Indian Eats.
The typical Indian home of today consists of a mud chinked log shack, a tepee or two, usually a hay barn and sometimes a corral. As a general rule, they live in squalor, yet many Indians possess nice homes and enjoy well cooked meals from neatly set tables. But the ordinary Indian eats meats largely of questionable character. He delights in dog stew and other savory dishes. He has excellent teeth and an envied digestion.

Indian children are shy and close mouthed to strangers, but the squaws are often loquacious. Their doors are always open to visitors. The red man has an aversion for soldiers and frankly tells them that he does not fear them. Although he possesses an excellent constitution, disease finds in the Indian an easy victim.—Detroit Free Press.

"Minne Giggie" Falls.
"Some years ago I visited an old friend of mine in Minneapolis," said a well known Milwaukee railroad man, "and he spent considerable time taking me about to show me the many interesting places in that interesting city. One day he took me out to see the famous Minnehaha falls, and after I had feasted my eyes on this beautiful work of nature he invited me to accompany him down the gulch through which the little stream flows—at least half a mile—and there called my attention to a little cascade that is an exact miniature of Minnehaha falls."

"What do you call this cascade?" I asked of my friend.
"We call this Minne Giggie,"—Milwaukee Sentinel.

The Artist and the Critic.
Sidney Cooper, the English artist, happened one day to visit the Royal Academy, where some of his works were on exhibition, while a couple of critics were examining the pictures, strolled up to where they were standing. At that moment the younger of the two critics exclaimed, "Any machine could turn out sheep like that!"

Mr. Cooper put his hand in his pocket, produced his card and, handing it to the newspaper man, said, with gravity, "If you will kindly send that machine to this address when completed, I'll send a check for $1,000 to the institute for decayed journalists!"

Soup by the Pound.
In China liquids are sold by weight and grain by measure. John buys soup by the pound and cloth by the foot. A Chinaman never puts his name outside his shop, but paints instead a motto or a list of his goods on his vertical sign-board. Some reassuring remark is frequently added, such as "One word hall." "A child two feet high would not be cheated." Every single article has to be bargained for, and it is usual for the customer to take his own measure and scales with him.

The Heat of Australia.
Australia is the hottest country on record. I have ridden for miles astride the equator, but I have never found heat to compare with this. Out in the country in the dry times there appears to be little more than a sheet of brown paper between you and the lower regions, and the people facetiously say that they have to feed their hens on cracked ice to keep them from laying boiled eggs.—Sydney Telegraph.

Considerate.
Young Husband—Don't you think, darling, that it would spoil the curtain if I should smoke?
Young Wife—You are the best and most considerate husband that ever lived, dear. Of course it would.

Censure and Criticism.
Censure and criticism never hurt anybody. If false, they cannot hurt you unless you are wanting in many character, and if true they show a man his weak points and forearm him against failure and trouble.—Gladstone.

Consoling the Old Lady.
Old Aunt (despondently)—Well, I shall not be a nuisance to you much longer.
Nephew (reassuringly)—Don't talk like that, aunt. You know you will!—Punch.
